WARRANT PLAN EXPLAINED

Westbrook Pegler, Noted Commentator, "Digests" Election Proposition

SAN FRANCISCO — Westbrook Pegler, whose biting criticism of crackpots and racketeers have made him internationally famous, pays his respects to the Ham and Eggs scheme in an article under a Los Angeles dateline, printed in today's News. Pegler says:

"The incompetents who rule the emotions of this city have got something at least in the issue known as Ham an' Eggs, which goes to the voters of California on Nov. 7 in the form of an amendment to the State Constitution."

"This is a proposal to create an absolute dictatorship. It is the most audacious, the most absurd and, at the same time, the most horrifying suggestion ever presented to the voters of any American community since history runneth not to the contrary. Disguised as an old-age pension plan whereby all persons who are rising 50 years and who are, with variation, citizens of California, would receive $30 every Thursday, this incredible fraud is no pension plan at all but an invitation to the voters to elect either of two designated individuals to a position to be known as that of 'administrator.'

"The promoters have had the effrontery to name in a proposed constitutional amendment, two men, one of whom must be selected by the governor. These two individuals are Roy G. Owens and Will H. Kindig, both of Los Angeles, of whom more will be reported later. It may be said in brief, however, that they are adventurers in emotional politics and neither, by previous achievement, would deserve better than alarm, even though they were running as nominees and alternate for the post of boxing commissioner."

"This is the most astounding proposal ever conceived in this or, for all my knowing on the subject, any other country, not excluding Germany." (Continued on page four)

Work Begun On Parish Hall

St. Patrick's Church Erecting New Building As Activities Center

The members of the parish of St. Patrick's Catholic Church have begun the erection of a hall large enough for parish activities to mark the approach of the diamond jubilee of the present church building which will be observed next year.

The building is being erected on property adjoining the church building on Sacramento Street.

In announcing the undertaking, attention was directed to the circumstance that in 1865 the present church building was built and dedicated on the site of an older frame structure which was destroyed by fire in April of 1864 and the next year, therefore, will witness the diamond jubilee of the church.

To mark the auspicious event," the announcement says, "the parishioners of St. Patrick's have determined to provide the parish with a hall large enough for parish activities and the work is now under way.

The building, including approaches, will be thirty-five feet by seventy feet. It will be of two stories. The foundation will be concrete, the superstructure of stucco. The auditorium will have a seating capacity of two hundred and fifty. "It is hoped that later on the building will form the first unit of a parish school."

Funds for the enterprise are being raised through the generosity of members of the parish and through the donations of other friends who are interested in the project. Such donations, it need hardly be remarked, will be very gratefully accepted."

Reason Enough To Vote "No" On Number 1

Someone has supplied us with figures estimating that the gross fruit business of the county in a season is $1,133,363, which seems to be a fairly close estimate.

Then, if Proposition One is passed and the three per cent gross transactions tax is added, that would mean a tax of $34,000 on the county's fruit business each year.

Which is reason enough to vote "No" on Proposition One.

LARGE VOTE ON TUESDAY SEEN

Polls Open At 6 O'clock In The Morning; Close At 7 O'clock In Evening

Observers generally agreed Thursday that they believe that in the special election to be held Tuesday, El Dorado County will cast a large vote.

While none would go so far as to estimate the probable percentage of the total votes which will be cast, it seemed to be the universal belief that the brisk campaigns concerning Proposition One, the proposed warrant plan, and Proposition Five, the proposed oil control measure, have had the result of spurring an active interest throughout the county in the election.

Three other propositions on the ballot relate to regulations governing the practice of chiropractic (Proposition 2) and to regulations governing small loans operations. 3 and 4.

Polls in thirty-six precincts in the county designated by the Board of Supervisors will open at six o'clock on the morning of election day and will remain open until seven o'clock in the evening, or will close as soon thereafter as the persons then in line have voted.

The county registration for the election is 7,796.

Earlier in the week, the County Clerk's office reported that one hundred ninety applications for absentee ballots had been received.

The time for applying for absentee ballots expires at the close of the business day on Thursday, November 2, and all absentee ballots must be voted not later than the closing hour of the polls on election day.

SIERRA CLUB SCHEDULES OUTING ON SUNDAY AT CLIPPER GAP

The Sierra Club, state-wide conservation group of which Prof. Joel H. Hildebrand, of Berkeley, is president, is considering the formation of a chapter in Sacramento which will draw members from the valley and Mother Lode region.

So enthusiastic have "stray" members of the club in this area become in the matter of forming a chapter, that they have formed a "proposed chapter" which is now scheduling a series of events of special interest.

Tonight, Thursday, at the David Lubin school, 36th and K streets, in Sacramento, the group will gather to see a colored movie "Sky-and-Tales of the Kings," which is a natural color picture of the high Sierra.

On Sunday the group will hold an outing at Clipper Gap, Placer County. "Kindred spirits" are invited to share in the activities and those who are especially interested may learn more of the club's doings by contacting Dr. H. I. Sharpen, of Placerville, who has been a member for several years.

District Deputy Meets With 20-30 Club

Placerville Twenty-Thirty Club members at their meeting Wednesday night at the Blue Bell Coffee Shop had as a distinguished visitor their deputy district governor, Hobart Crook, of Marysville. Mr. Crook was accompanied by Norman Bryan and Reid Christian, also of the Marysville Club.

George Duffy presided at the meeting at which Mr. Crook spoke briefly of the work being done by Twenty-Thirty Clubs in the district.

Vote On Tuesday

(Editorial)

It is important in the special election to be held Tuesday, November 7, that every person who is qualified to vote do so.

This, we believe, is appreciated by the large majority of our readers although there may be some among us who may feel that "whatever the rest of the people want is all right with me."

To those few who may subscribe to this attitude, we urge that the failure of qualified persons to state their ballot preferences is a dangerous symptom in our civic state of health and one which, conceivably, might permit a small but active "pressure group" in the support of any contention to put over upon the majority some principle which the majority would not endorse at all.

All qualified should vote, and we shall not go amiss if, having voted, we appoint ourselves a committee of one to make sure that our friends and neighbors also cast their votes.

GEORGETOWN WATER USERS MEET MONDAY NIGHT AT GREENWOOD

GEORGETOWN — Louis Enzler, secretary of the Georgetown Water Users announces a business meeting at the Greenwood School House at seven o'clock, Monday, November 6, and all members have been notified.

Attention is called to the fact that the irrigation season has been over for one month and the Ditch Company has made no progress in sluicing any of its reservoirs to hold storage water should a freeze or a heavy snow cut off the mountain water as it has in the past. About one-third of the Georgetown reservoir was sluiced out last spring and stopped at the opening of the irrigation season. The reservoirs at Dry Creek and Spanish Dry Diggins have not been touched in thirty years, it is reported on good authority.

4-H CLUBS TO SALUTE ACHIEVEMENT DAY ON SATURDAY

El Dorado County 4-H Clubs will join with clubs throughout the nation Saturday in observing Achievement Day, during which the club members will receive recognition earned in their club work for the past year.

Members of 4-H Clubs in the county will share in the national program as the result of a radio broadcast on a national network which will be heard in Placerville through station KGO during the hour following 9:20 o'clock Saturday morning.

Saturday evening, at the Missouri Flat Community Hall, approximately sixty boys and girls of the county who have completed their club work this year will receive Achievement Pins from E. Ogden Hook, county key banker.

The various clubs will contribute stunts to the program of the evening.

The Coloma Street home of the late Miss Marie Holley is reported to have been purchased by Dr. and Mrs. Lester B. Rantz and will be occupied in the near future by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Norrish and family.

Mrs. Violet Thompson, of Coloma road, has been awarded the chest of fancy work made by the ladies of the Grange at Garden Valley which was for some time displayed in the window of the Dillingham store. The action is in Superior Court.

CONVICT PAIR FOUND SLAIN

Bodies Of Men Who Fled Road Camp Oct. 20 Dumped On San Mateo Beach

SAN MATEO, (UPI) — The bullet-riddled bodies of two men, identified as Ray Lagomarsino, 33-year-old San Mateo county desperado, and Leo Tyma, 39, San Francisco, who fled from a Folsom Prison road camp in the Tehachapis Oct. 20, were found near here today.

The bodies lay at the bottom of a 60-foot cliff along the San Mateo county coastline south of the Lakeside Countryside Club.

Lagomarsino, a "bad boy" who had been the first and only convict to be released from Alcatraz federal penitentiary without having completed his whole term, and Tyma were wearing clothing which had been stolen this week from the Colma home of Deputy Sheriff George Krehl.

Fingerprints found in the home had identified Lagomarsino as one of the thieves.

A third convict was with the two men when they fled from the camp. He was believed to have come north with them in their flight.

After the finding of the bodies, search was started for the third man, Ray Thompson, 33, who had been imprisoned in Folsom on grand theft charges filed in Los Angeles county.

Lagomarsino had been sent to Folsom in connection with an escape from the San Mateo county jail when he got into trouble after his release from Alcatraz where he was sent for postoffice robbery.

Tyma was convicted of robbery in San Francisco in 1925 and was sent to the state's prison for habitual criminals with records of two or more convictions.

One would not call a beautiful painting a "false picture," they declared. "So it is with teeth. The patients who have to have reproductions of their former teeth simply get new teeth."

Placerville Becomes Area Headquarters; Paxton In Charge

The local office of the Soil Conservation Service received word on Wednesday morning that Placerville has been established as the headquarters of an Area comprising the northeast portion of the state.

Work in the following counties is to be handled: Calaveras, Amador, Alpine, Sacramento, Sutter, Yuba, Placer, Nevada, Sierra, Butte, Tehama, Plumas, Lassen, Shasta, Siskiyou and Modoc Counties.

The above are in addition to the work which has been carried on for some time in El Dorado County. In order to carry on the enlarged work area, additional staff are being added as rapidly as they can be obtained. Mr. Harry Hyatt reported today for work as Project Soil Conservationist, and will be in charge of work formerly carried on by Kyle D. Thompson. Mr. Ransford Lewis also reported today to be Area Agronomist.

Some of this additional work has been under way for some time. Included in this are an approved Water Facilities Area near Auburn, in Placer County, a Water Facilities Area in Sierra Valley, and the XL Indian Reservation near Alturas. In addition to this, there have been extension demonstration farms located in Yuba and Tehama Counties.

There will be a Project staff retained to take care of the Erosion Control problems in the old demonstration area.

According to Glenn Paxton, who will be in charge of the Area, it is anticipated that the Soil Conservation Service will move to larger quarters in Placerville within the next month.

BOSTON, (UPI)—Never call them "false teeth."

Dentists at the 76th annual meeting of the New England Dental Society insisted there were no more "false" teeth, but "reproductions" or "new teeth."

U.S.-RUSSIAN STRAIN NOTED

Congressman Demands Withdrawal Of Envoy; Finns Face Crisis

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Relations between the United States and Soviet Russia, who as the largest neutral nations may hold the balance of power in the European war, took an abrupt turn for the worse today.

Diplomatic relations, already tense as a result of Russia's brusque treatment of American diplomatic representatives in the City of Flint case, became more strained at any time since United States recognition of Soviet Russia because of criticism of this country by premier and foreign commissar V. M. Molotov.

Rep. John W. McCormack, D., Mass., speaking from the floor of the house, demanded that Mr. Roosevelt withdraw his ambassador to Moscow. Laurence A. Steinhardt, Diplomatic moves by the White House suggested that the temper of the administration might not be adverse to such a move, although there was no indication from the state department that recall of Steinhardt has been considered.

"President Taft, East China Sea, October 1, 1939.

"O ha yo: (Good morning.) Between boats it was necessary to spend eight days in Japan. It rained some every day.

"We traveled by rail more than eight hundred miles.

"A large part of Japan is mountainous. Rice fields everywhere in the valleys. Harvest time in about a month. Not a cow did we see in Japan. Now and then we saw an ox hitched to a wagon. Milk is never on a menu.

"We visited Yokohama, Tokyo, Kamakura, Hakone Lake, Kyoto, Osaka, Naha, Kobe and many smaller towns. In fact, there are towns and clusters of houses everywhere. Never see one house standing by itself; always in clusters.

"In cities the men of the better class dress in European clothes and the women in kimonos. The usual slipper made of a piece of board and held to the foot by two strings running between the two larger toes is worn by most people.

"Hotel rates, eating and travel are cheap. Japan is at war and evidences of this are seen on every hand. Girls are conductors on the street cars and busses, run the elevators and wait on the tables. Troops were moving from practically all the railroad stations. They had the appearance of being of the younger lads.

"In one of the larger temples we saw priests in the most elaborate ceremonies I ever witnessed, offering prayers for the repose of the souls of the soldier dead. At a station where the train stopped a few minutes, a parade with many banners and costumes was in progress. It seems that the ashes and bodies of troops in foreign wars had been received and the whole countryside had turned out in mourning.

"Profiteering is forbidden by law. All prices remain on the same basis as in times of peace. Street car and bus fare is two and one-half cents. They claim there are no idle men in Japan. We saw but one beggar. He was in the suburbs of Kobe.

"The older cities are full of interesting temples, gods, shrines, pagodas, Buddhas and castles dating from the fifth to the fifteenth centuries. Those most noted are likely found in the cities of Kyoto and Nara, two former capitals of Japan. It is claimed there are 1,480 Buddhist temples in the city of Kyoto alone.

"We spent one full day visiting temples, shrines, gods and castles in Kyoto and Nara. We could have spent months without seeing them all thoroughly. When we came to a temple, before entering, we had to remove our shoes and proceed through the temple in our stocking feet. That day I tramped barefooted through so many temples I was certain I would become flat-footed before night.

"The Buddha in one of the temples is especially interesting. Erected in 749 A. D. it contains four hundred thirty-nine tons of bronze, two hundred eighty-eight pounds of gold, seven tons of wax, one hundred sixty-five pounds of mercury and several thousand tons of charcoal and is fifty-three and one half feet high in sitting posture. The Buddha has several hands which signifies that he is everywhere, reaching all places.

"Another temple contains one thousand and one wooden statues of Kwannon, goddess of liberty, and twenty-eight hideous disciples or gods. The one thousand one statues are covered with gold. The object of the appearance of the gods seems to be to strike terror in the hearts of the people.

"Everywhere we have met with kindness on the part of the people we have met. From the time we disembarked until we left the country of Japan, a system was used by the Japanese authorities to keep track of our whereabouts. We were checked off the boat in Yokohama and at the end of our stay we were checked onto the President Taft in Kobe harbor. We had several views of Japan's sacred Mt. Fuji.

"Every night flood lights are played onto the ship's flag so that submarines and other warlike craft may know to what nation the vessel belongs.

Warrant Plan

many in Russia. After all, Hitler beat his way up and Stalin took over a slaughterhouse which was a going concern. But in California it is proposed that the people deliver the whole life, freedom and property of the state into the hands of either of two individuals who nominated themselves. Huey Long was a prime and modest constitutional statesman by comparison, and let it be understood that it is inconceivable gall of the two nominees and their crowd which has imposed on the confusion and want of Southern California to place this amendment on the ballot.

The amendment itself runs up a score of about 15,000 words, and would defy the intelligence of all the sages of all the ages, and yet, to the end, presents an apparent but false promise to pay $30 every Thursday to everyone rising 50. It backtracks, contradicts itself and the American Constitution and gets lost in such fog as even the most earnest bankers and economists have been unable to penetrate. But it doesn't fail to provide that either Roy G. Owens or Will H. Kindig of Los Angeles must be named administrator with power to suppress strikes, forfeit property and money, suspend the debts of favored individuals, discredit the credit of the state and its counties, cities and towns and spend money at will.

"This is not the simple, screwball dream book proposal which was voted down once before. The $30-Every-Thursday lure has been retained only as a lure and is, by agreement even of those who saw some phantom of possibility in the previous plan, a fake. Nevertheless, the C. I. O. element of the labor has endorsed the fraud, even though the membership and most of the American leaders know it to be a fraud, as an act of gratitude. Ham an' Eggs voted against a reactionary anti-picketing law last time, and the C. I. O. and much of the A. F. of L. element have now given aid and comfort to a plain Nazi, anti-labor movement as a return favor.

The C. I. O. influence was delivered by the Communist leaders dominating the subsidiary C. I. O. units against the will of the rank and file. Many of the rank and file probably will vote against the dictatorship. The Communists with their small but efficient minorities in the C. I. O. locals controlled the sentiment of the majority. The fact that the dictatorship would be antithesis is of no consequence, because chaos, confusion and disaster are the objectives, anyway.

"And is Ham an' Eggs should win the Communists of the C. I. O. would expect to move in and help administer the amendment to the lieutenant governor, and Patterson may fill the position with an authority for six months while machinery is set up for a competitive examination to select a permanent appointee.

Philatelists Meet

The Advanced Stamp Club hit on a brilliant idea for their meeting last Friday. Too polite to hurt the feelings of some beginning collectors who might desire to attend any meeting advertised as "Stamp Club," they changed their name to Philatelist's Club, figuring that anybody who knew that two-bit word meant stamp collector was eligible for the membership. Gordon Fisk gave a talk on a U. S. Revenue stamp, after which they fell to swapping stamps like a horse trader's convention.

Wednesday marked the passing of another meeting of the College Club, a group of serious minded seniors, who, led by Mr. Wright, discuss college courses, methods of instruction, lessons, campus activities, and nearly everything else that pertains to going to college. Right at present, they are discussing the types and origins of various colleges and universities. Those students who belong to the club, and who later went to college, agree that they have found this discussion a great help.

Accept "Retirement Life Payment Warrants"

(Ham and Eggs—30 Thursday)

Because:

• The so-called "Warrants" would not be lawful money

• Employees are entitled to receive lawful money in payment for wages and salaries

• The so-called "Warrants" could not be used to pay wholesalers and manufacturers for merchandise

• The so-called "Warrants" could not be used to pay social security and other federal taxes

• The plan is basically unsound and will lead to State bankruptcy and a breakdown of essential government functions including police and fire protection, schools, state pensions and all permanent relief.
